SCHWEIZER is one of the 800 best employers in Germany

Among all medium-sized companies in Baden-Württemberg, SCHWEIZER is in 6th place in the category Electronics/Electrical Engineering/Medical Devices

Schramberg, 10 February 2014 – Schweizer Electronic AG is among Germany's best employers in 2014. This is the result of an independent survey conducted by the German news magazine FOCUS.

FOCUS magazine in cooperation with XING, the leading professional network in German-speaking countries, and the largest German employer assessment portal carried out the assessment based on objectively defined criteria. These included management qualities and professional perspectives as well as salaries and the employer's image. The staff's willingness to recommend their employer was also assessed.

In total, 800 employers convinced their employees and won an award. SCHWEIZER came in 6th in the category Electronics/Electrical Engineering/Medical Devices among all medium-sized companies in Baden-Württemberg.

Dr. Marc Schweizer, CEO of Schweizer Electronic AG, is very happy about the award. "We are glad to have achieved such a result in an independent survey. This confirms our mission as employer to provide more than just work. As a family-owned company with a long tradition, a good working atmosphere and an attractive workplace are not the only important features to us. All of our actions also involve the aim to guarantee a strong and healthy company future generations may also benefit from. This award underlines our philosophy."

Nicolas Schweizer, Chief Commercial Officer of Schweizer Electronic AG, adds:

"We always take special care that our staff is at ease with their workplace and that they enjoy doing what they do. We encourage this by guaranteeing a high level of individual responsibility and providing attractive working conditions and generous fringe benefits. That our employees appreciate our efforts and that this could even be confirmed by an independent survey shows that focusing on our staff is the right way to continue as a successful company in the future. Of course, we will continue to pursue this approach. In the future, we will focus more, for example, on flexible working conditions as well as work-life-balance. I would like to dedicate this award to all our employees who do a great job every day and who make us what we are."
